2001 Barletta Clare Valley Grenache

Clare Grenache out of the 2001 vintage shows an intense, almost shiraz like power with it's delicious varietal integrity. In fact 2001 is the first release of a purely 100% Grenache under this label.

Fruit for this wine was sourced from very low yielding, 35+ year old, dry grown, bush-vine Grenache. The vineyard is the 'Home Block' on the Stanley Flat property known as Flatview. It was at the time owned by outstanding Clare growers Rosemary and Graham Pulford. Yields off this vineyard rarely surpassed 1.5 tonnes to the acre.

As with previous and current Barletta wines the complete fermentation and maturation process was completed under the watchful eye of close friend and well known Clare producer Neil Pike at his Polish Hill River Winery.

A very small portion of new French Oak was used in the nearly 24 month maturation of this wine. It is our preferred position not to use too much new oak with Grenache to allow its aromatic and textural characters free expression. A mix of mainly 2nd and some 3rd year French and American Oak were used for the larger part of the maturation. A minimal filtering philosophy is maintained.

The wine shows spiced perfume, with a warm juicy red berry sweetness on the palate and a touch of rich earthiness and game that is balanced by fine natural tannin and acid. A big mouthful of robust Clare flavours.
